

October ' 2016

The CAMDEN CALL

Camden Group
monthly newsletter

- We are excited to announce we are formally launching our monthly newsletter. We want to share with all of you our adventures in the architectural world.
- At the end of last month, September 22, Ameeta Hemmadi and Yelena Ptashinskaya attended the 8th annual Dallas Health Care Real Estate Interface. Ameeta and Yelena took the opportunity to network with a wide array of professionals and explore some of the new trends in the healthcare industry. They are looking forward to continuing these new relationships throughout the coming year.

Yelena Ptashinskaya: "I was thrilled to meet with realtors, investors, developers, healthcare groups and architects. The common consensus was that technologies, consumers and services are changing the healthcare industry. Lease terms become shorter, facilities become smaller, more flexible and more accessible. Big hospitals serving rural areas are becoming more and more obsolete."

Ameeta Hemmadi : "We were able to absorb a massive amount of information that covered aspirations of investors, developers and healthcare administrators. Also, it was exciting to hear that many people are looking to invest into the Dallas market while we are here and ready to help."

We will post the updates about our view of healthcare design trends in future newsletters.

Notable items this month:

- Lightplane 1 Round/RLP1
Was specified as a light for an open office space. We liked the ability to rotate the luminaire in any direction.

- Sygnal Grande Pendant by LBL

Intended to replicate a rocket nozzle at the break room office for a new space industry tech startup company.

We would like to hear your questions or feedback about the products and materials you like or have a special interest in.

CAMDEN

G R O U P

